

What the Duck Just Happened?

This quick, silly, and surprisingly powerful reflection activity is your chance to close out the school year with creativity and calm. Build a duck. Name it. Reflect on the year.

Step 1: Sketch Your Duck

Use this space to draw your LEGO duck or describe it in words. No rules. Just build.

Step 2: Reflect Like a Duck

Answer any (or all) of the questions below. Have fun with it—or make it meaningful. Your duck is your guide.

1. 1. What did your duck survive this year?

2. 2. What's one moment this year that made you laugh way too hard?

3. 3. What challenge did you overcome that deserves a celebratory QUACK?
- 4.

5. 4. What is one moment, lesson, or student that reminded you why you became a teacher?

6. 5. What is one thing your duck is leaving behind—and one thing it's bringing into next year?

7. 6. If your duck could talk, what would it say about how you did this year?

 Share your duck and tag @coachthomastech using #WheresTheFunInThat